TRAIL of the ANCIENTS
National Scenic Byway
Map & Guide

LEAVE NO TRACE...
All cultural sites, artifacts, fossils, and historic remains remain fragile and irreplaceable. To protect them, please:
• Don’t camp on or in ruins.
• Don’t leave trash, “offerings,” or other personal items at sites.
• Don’t sit, climb, stand, or lean on stone walls.
• When entering/leaving through a closed gate, please close it behind you.
• Always remain on designated trails.
• Don’t leave trash, "offerings," or other personal items at sites.
• Don’t sit, climb, stand, or lean on stone walls.
• When entering/leaving through a closed gate, please close it behind you.
• Always remain on designated trails.
• Before entering a site consider how you can minimize your impact.

ACTIVITIES
Numerous recreational activities are available along the Trail Of The Ancients, such as hiking, camping, fishing, mountain biking, snowmobiling, hunting, four wheel driving, cross-country skiing, horseback riding, and cultural exploration. Many of the recreational opportunities are on public lands. To ensure continued enjoyment of these recreational opportunities, please treat the land and other recreational users with respect.

VARIOUS NAMES...
Various names are sometimes given to the people referred to in this brochure as the Ancestral Puebloans. Other identifying names include Anasazi, Hisatsinom, ancient ancestors, or old people. In this brochure all these names will be referred to as the Ancestral Puebloans.
